“Working Safely at Home”

Fact: Increase in usage of firearms being used in street and home robberies reflect criminals turning to soft targets while traditional targets such as banks, building societies, and post offices have either closed or tightened their security.

Tips:

- Offices are standard in many homes have some very expensive equipment such as computers, scanners, printers, ect. It’s important to secure yourself and this equipment.
- Window or Door Jammers are a great device to help secure you while in your office and are easy to remove when needed.
- Install solid doors and coded locks instead of using a key on all exterior doors.
- Alarm systems are a good investment to protect your business assets, but only go with solid experienced & trusted companies.
- Install a wide-angle viewer in the door of your home office or video security.
- Let someone know when and with whom you have an appointment
- Marking you equipment with ID numbers if absolutely necessary
- Anyone making a delivery to you home office should show proper identification before you open the door to them.

Voice Alert System : will alert you before a person even gets to your door.
